

Enigma Aviation Services at El Alamein International Airshow 2026

By Captain Baher Aldamasy, Enigma Aviation Services CEO

Enigma Aviation Services made its debut at the El Alamein International Airshow, held from 8–10 September 2026 at El Alamein International Airport, exhibiting at Booth E112. The event provided Enigma with an opportunity to engage with aviation operators, industry stakeholders and potential partners while showcasing its growing aviation support capabilities across Egypt.

As an IATA-listed Ground Handling Partner, Enigma provides a broad range of services including passenger and VIP handling, ramp operations, flight operations, load control, security and other ground-support services. Its growing airport network positions the company to support international operators across Egypt, including key destinations such as Cairo, Sphinx, Hurghada, Sharm El Sheikh and El Alamein.

For Enigma, however, the airshow was about more than exhibition presence. It provided a platform for meaningful industry engagement and new opportunities for international cooperation.

A key development surrounding the event was the signing of a Memorandum of Understanding between Saudia Private, Linkavia and Enigma Aviation Services, aimed at strengthening cooperation in flight-support services and expanding international coverage across key markets.

Enigma's participation also formed part of the wider presence of the Luxavia Group, with Jetavia's Boeing Business Jet featuring on the static display. The Group's presence brought together complementary areas of aviation, from ground and flight support through Enigma to aircraft management through Jetavia.

For Captain Baher Aldamasy, Founder and Group CEO, the event represented another step in the development of an aviation group with operations spanning Egypt, Dubai, Switzerland, Kenya and South Africa.

As both a commercial pilot and aviation entrepreneur, Captain Aldamasy brings an operational perspective to the Group's expansion, with a focus on developing aviation businesses and partnerships across international markets.

As the airshow concluded, Enigma's participation left the company with more than increased visibility. It opened new conversations, strengthened industry relationships and created opportunities for partnerships that extend beyond Egypt.

For Enigma Aviation Services, El Alamein was not simply an exhibition. It was a platform for connection, collaboration and the next stage of growth.
